Within this period of unprecedented change in our sport, there is an appetite for performance coaching practice to align from the top of our Olympic and Paralympic pathways to grass roots. There is also a desire for athletes to learn better and faster than ever before.

Athletes and coaches are the backbone of performance archery and it is our aim to better support both in the environments in which they work. The Archery GB Talent Team will offer the coaching leadership needed to set world class standard of coaching practice at each tier of our pathway.

Coaching is absolutely fundamental to ensure our archers enjoy and excel in their sport. This new programme is aimed at supporting and developing coaches in Great Britain to gain new skills, approaches and confidence with their expertise to making their work more effective and enjoyable.

There is already an incredible amount of expertise with our coaches and building confidence with that is key to creating momentum in our athletes' performances, always evolving to ensure we have World Class Coaching at Every Level of Our Olympic and Paralympic Pathway.

Ceri Ann Davies, Archery G.B. Performance Pathways Manager

Aims of the programme

To provide support and development to:

- Expand the knowledge of coaches of the pedagogy that underpins world class practice
- Broaden the understanding of coaches of age and stage related world class performance development
- Influence coaching practice/behaviours to better support the needs of athletes in the GB Talent Pathway, aligned to what it takes to win on the Olympic and Paralympic stage

Who is the programme aimed at?

- Coaches who are working locally with archers engaged in any tier of the Talent Pathway:
*National Talent Development Programme
National/Home Country Age Group Squads
Performance Academies
Talent Confirmation Phase*
- Coaches who have the enthusiasm, desire and commitment for continual professional development

We will look to recruit up to 10 Coaches for this Programme for this two year programme of development. Coaches are required to be of level 1 and above.

Objectives of the programme

For coaches to:

- Learn from and contribute to the Archery GB Talent Team community of practice, learning on the job by engaging in Talent Development activities and case conferences
- Analyse and reflect on their own coaching practice/behaviour to ensure they are meeting the needs of their athletes and helping to inform their own continual self-development
- Own and take responsibility for their own development
- Have a greater understanding and knowledge of the technical, physical, psychological and social requirements of age-group talent athletes
- Develop more effective communication skills and practices
- Grow in confidence in their expertise that their practice with talent athletes is world class for that level of the pathway
- Be equipped to use athlete profiling at foundation levels of the talent pathway and report effectively in to the Performance Pathway Manager for 2015 and beyond

Talent Development Support

- 8 X Talent Development residential weekends
- Observation and then delivery of Talent Development support alongside out Talent Team on key tracking and benchmarking dates in the programme
- Delivery experience at the next Talent Development Open Recruitment Day in 2015-2016
- Delivery of athlete profiling in 2015-2016

Performance Academy Support

- 8 X Performance Academy Residential Camps
- Shadowing sessions within the Performance Academies focused on key meso-cycle technical transitions of:
 - Analysis leading to technical phase planning and individualised periodisation
 - Pre-competition technical assurance phase and performance planning
 - Pre competition simulation and integrated mental skills programmes
- Performance Analysis of supporting and key domestic/national events

Performance Coach Mentor Support

Each coach will work with a mentor from our Archery GB Talent Team to facilitate targeted individual development and reflective practice. The mentor will act as a sounding board: someone who will listen impartially to ideas and approaches, enabling the coach to reflect more objectively.
